Inaugural Address

By Mayor John H. Bates

---

Gentlemen of the City Council:

In taking oath here today as the mayor of Rochester for the ensuing year I am not unmindful of the responsibility that rests upon me. I thank the citizens for the expression of their confidence. I was elected upon no special platform, have made no promises, no pledges to be redeemed, yet I wish to take this opportunity to assure you and the people of Rochester that in so far as my power lies, I shall lend all my influence toward a clean, impartial and economical administration. Doubtless I shall make some mistakes, for none are infallible, but I intend to work unselfishly in behalf of the city's interest and to act only after obtaining all the facts and information that I am able to secure.

I am sustained, gentlemen, by the fact that I am to share the responsibility of this administration with you. By accepting our several offices, we have made ourselves servants of the people and stand pledged to serve our city faithfully and honestly. We shall be unable to please all, for there are always some courting special privilege and legislation enacted for the good of the whole city will conflict with the private interests of a few. However, let us act with an eye to the future welfare of Rochester; then if there are those who are not in accord with our methods, they will at least respect our honest efforts.

The city has been turned over to our administration in excellent condition, with all departments running smoothly, yet we shall have the usual quota of problems to solve and let us endeavor to settle them with the spirit of harmony that places our city's welfare above personal gain.

FINANCE.

To run a modern American city upon a sound financial basis has become one of the greatest economic problems of the times. In this progressive age the people rightly demand many modern improvements, yet some, who are ever ready to criticize the lack of needed improvements, are the first to bewail a high rate of taxation. You, who have shared in the responsibility of municipal affairs, understand how difficult it is to keep a city like ours up to date and still maintain it upon a sound financial basis. Our current expenses must of necessity increase yearly, while our sources of revenue do not increase in equal proportion. This entails upon your finance committee great care and consideration in handling the problem wisely.

I herewith submit to you an approximate financial statement of our city's liabilities and assets.

SCHOOLS.

In these days when so many cities are struggling with the question of crowded school rooms, Rochester is particularly fortunate in possessing some beautiful school buildings which will be able to accommodate the natural increase of pupils for some years to come. Our schools are running smoothly and the work done in them compares favorably, I believe, with that in the other cities of our state.

Our text books have been allowed, on account of lack of funds, to run down into a deplorable state. During the past year our High school books have been quite adequately replenished, but the supply in the grades is not sufficient to enable the teachers to get the best results. While the state law requires us to furnish text-books, we should see that this department is not crippled by any lack in the supply.

Last year's appropriation will be overdrawn by about $300. The amount of money asked for by the school board has usually been cut down a few hundred dollars, which accounts in part for the difficulty in keeping up the text-books and supplies.

It might be well for the finance committee, before cutting down the amount asked for, to consult with the finance committee of the school board, to ascertain if any reduction would be expedient.

HEALTH.

Although this department carries a small appropriation, it is by no means unimportant. Few realize the amount of money that sickness costs our city, directly and indirectly. Every preventive measure possible should be made to protect the health of our citizens.

I hope the time is not far distant when we shall be able to make a beginning at least toward compulsory medical inspection in our schools.

Our citizens should always co-operate with the board of health and report to the proper authorities anything that is a menace to the health of the community.

It has been impossible to prevent plunder in the city pest house owing to its isolated location. In its present condition it could not be used for what it was designed. I advise that some action be taken in the near future relative to this property.

EQUALIZATION OF TAXES.

This is an old, hackneyed subject, yet I believe it is one of the most vital questions that face our city to-day. Our assessed valuation has failed to increase in any just ratio to the amount required to be raised by taxation. The ensuing year is bringing to us expenses that we have not had before, such as all night lighting, payment of one-fifth of the cost of the new school building and the redemption of three thousand dollars' worth of city hall bonds, so that the amount necessary to raise by taxation will reach well beyond the one hundred thousand dollar mark.

There is urgent need of a re-adjustment in values of the taxable property of the town. Doubtless a majority of our tax payers are assessed enough; nevertheless, the fact remains, that there is much valuable property in Rochester assessed at a very low valuation.

If these properties are not adjusted upon a fair basis to all with due regard to their market value, our tax rate this year must necessarily go higher.

I realize that this matter of equalization of taxes is a difficult problem; one that must be handled with common sense and sound judgment.

Our assessors after being elected have the whole matter in their hands; so I urge you, Gentlemen of the Council, whenever a vacancy is to be filled to do all in your power to place there a competent business man with the courage of his convictions.

WATER WORKS AND SEWERS.

This system is a great asset to our city, for after furnishing free water to all our other departments, it still has placed to its credit each year a net balance of several thousand dollars.

Some of our citizens believe it would be better to place this department on a financial basis of its own and require the other departments to pay a reasonable sum for the amount of water used as is done in most cities.

I have not had time to study the question relative to the special conditions in Rochester with any degree of thoroughness and would not presume at this time to advise which method would be the best business policy for us to pursue. I respectfully submit the question for your careful consideration.

I recommend that a few sanitary drinking fountains be placed in our city this summer. This would be a matter of little expense and surely would accommodate many people.

Such little things give an air of progressiveness to a town that is noted far beyond its borders.

SHADE TREES, PARKS AND COMMONS.

We have many beautifully shaded streets in our city which are a source of pride to our citizens. There are however, many open spaces on some of our residential streets where trees ought to be started as soon as possible.

The first impression of a stranger entering a town is gained by the beauty of its streets and park system. The civic pride of our citizens has been aroused much of late in this direction and all should be done that can be to foster that pride in the future.

I believe that greater observance should be made of Arbor day both by our citizens and by our schools. In these days when so much is being said about the conservation of our natural resources let us encourage our schools to use a portion at least of Arbor day to impress upon the minds of the pupils the true meaning of this great work.

Last summer no trees were set out by the city owing to the severe dry weather but if climatic conditions are favorable the coming season I hope to see much activity in this department.

BROWN TAIL MOTH DEPARTMENT.

The comparative freedom of our shade trees this winter from brown tail moth nests demonstrates that treatment by spraying is the only up-to-date and scientific method. Not only is it the most scientific but it is the most economical as a comparative examination of our city reports will show. Spraying not alone kills the caterpillars but many small insects infesting the leaves are effectually disposed of. An appropriation of $400 will be sufficient for this department.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Our fire companies have been strengthened much during the past two years and they deserve much credit for the work that they have done. They lack however the modern means for fighting fire that a city of our population deserves.

Rochester has been especially fortunate in the past in having no big fires but fate may not always smile so kindly upon us.

The city needs a fire engine of some kind. The time will soon come I believe when the most practical fire apparatus for a city like Rochester to buy will be a combination auto fire engine. The city of Manchester is using one with gratifying results. Whether or not the time is ripe for Rochester to consider such a proposition is a question for thorough investigation.

I hope that a resolution will be passed by you to instruct our fire committee to investigate the matter carefully and report what would be the most practical fire engine to fulfill the conditions in our city.

POLICE.

Rochester is to be congratulated upon the good law and order that has been maintained with such a small police force. Very few cities of Rochester's size pay so little per capita for police protection.

There is a question at the present time whether our city can afford to go much longer without another regular police officer. As it is at present, our city marshal is obliged to put in too many hours on patrol duty and is frequently called by night, since there is not a sufficiently large force to allow an officer to be on duty in the city marshal's office. The ever perplexing problem of the enforcement of the liquor law is always with us. Every broad minded citizen knows how difficult this is under our present system. Yet it is the duty of the marshal to go ahead and do his part and I assure the people of Rochester he will have my hearty support and co-operation.

PUBLIC HIGHWAYS.

Good roads have come to be of paramount importance in the minds of most people. Not only from a pleasure standpoint do we need good roads but true business economy demands that our main thoroughfares be made in a manner to furnish a hard road bed in all changing climatic conditions. The loss of time and stagnation of business that occurs when our public highways are almost impassable with mud is inestimable. This is a question that interests all our citizens, rich and poor alike, for it adds to their pleasure, promotes their business enterprises and increases the value of their property.

Good roads are bound to come and the sooner Rochester tackles this problem in a business like manner, the quicker will her business prosperity attain the height which is her due.

Our state road should be completed if possible this summer, in order to avail ourselves of the state appropriation. Besides, Rochester has been receiving too much free advertising of the wrong kind from her tourist travel. Of course this will be a matter apart from our regular appropriation for highways. Here we have a great problem in spending what is necessary for repairs in all parts of the town and still do what ought to be done in permanent road building. I think it might be wise to make the appropriation under two heads, as was done last year and endeavor to avoid transferring from one to the other.

I have no ideas to advance concerning the mechanical part of road construction, but I would suggest that the committee on roads, the superintendent of streets, and your mayor go over the roads as early in spring as is expedient and take notes of repairs that should be made.

However faithfully we may try, this department will be subjected to much criticism, but let us see to it that the people receive full value for every dollar spent.

This department falls below the standard of our other departments and I believe much time and careful consideration should be devoted toward bringing it to the front.

CONCLUSION.

Of the few remaining departments which I have not mentioned, little needs to be said.

Our library has a constantly increasing patronage and is ably managed on its annual appropriation.

We have no longer to contend with the problem of public buildings. Many of them are new and all are in excellent repair.

Much good work has been done during the past two years in rearranging our lighting system, so that with our all-night service, Rochester enjoys the distinction of being one of the best lighted cities in our state.

I have endeavored in the time at my disposal to convey to you, Gentlemen of the City Council, the general condition of our municipal affairs with a few suggestions for your consideration. I have endeavored to demonstrate that my policy will be a square deal for all and in that policy I feel that I shall have the hearty sympathy and co-operation of every member. If, at the end of this year, when we turn over the city to our successors, it can be said that Rochester is a better city to live in by virtue of our efforts, then we shall have some compensation for our labor and the sacrifices we must make.

CONCERNING THE CONTROL OF THE WATERS OF THE COCHECO RIVER

Whereas, the Rochester Woolen Company has caused the water in the Cocheco River to be drawn considerably below the natural bed of the river, during the past summer, and to a point lower than has before been observed by many citizens; and whereas, the exposure of so large a portion of the river bed has been the cause of disagreeable effluvia arising therefrom, which if continued may spread contagion among our people, and materially reduce real estate values in the immediate vicinity, therefore be it resolved by the Mayor and City Council of the City of Rochester, that the City Solicitor be and is hereby requested to look into the matter of the rights and privileges of the said Rochester Woolen Company concerning the control of the waters of the said Cocheco River, and what remedy if any, the City has to prevent the recurrence of conditions above referred to, and be it further resolved that the result of such investigation by the Solicitor be laid before the City Council in writing at the next regular meeting together with such suggestions and advice as the Solicitor may deem for the best interest of the city.

Passed September 5, 1911.

AUTHORIZING THE BUILDING OF STATE HIGHWAY.

Resolved, that the Street Commissioner under the direction of the standing committee on roads, bridges and drains, and special committee already appointed, be and is hereby empowered to have the general charge or supervision of the construction of the state highway, on the part of the city. He may, under the direction of said committee, make all necessary contracts for the supply of any labor or material or both and may make requisition upon the purchasing committee for all materials he may require in the discharge of such duty.

REGARDING REPAIRS ON PRIVATE WAYS.

Whereas, certain repairs have recently been made by the City of Rochester on private ways, viz: the private way leading from Wakefield Street to the shoe factory of Linscott, Tyler & Wilson Co., and the private way leading from Glenwood Avenue to the Planing Mill of W. H. Champlin, therefore be it resolved,

That the Street Commissioner, be and is hereby requested to furnish the following information to the City Council at the next regular meeting:

First—By what authority were these repairs made?

Second—The total amount of money expended on each of the private ways mentioned?

Third—Is the City to be reimbursed for making said repairs?

R. R. to furnish the protection demanded, and to employ special counsel if necessary, after serving notice on the said Railroad that at the expiration of fifteen days from date of said notice suitable protection not being furnished or agreed to within that time, petition will be made to the said public service commission to compel specific performance on the part of the said Railroad.

REGARDING PRESENTATION OF HIGH SCHOOL DIPLOMAS.

Whereas, the Mayor, by virtue of his office, is President of the School Board, it seems to us eminently fitting and proper that the custom of presenting diplomas to High School graduates each year, by the chief executive of the city be re-established, that the relation and interest which should always exist between the highest officials of the city and the schools, as one of the chief objects of municipal pride, should never be lost sight of, therefore, be it resolved by the Mayor and City Council of the City of Rochester, that the subject matter herein contained be recommended to the School Board for careful consideration and action.

And be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be spread upon our records and a like copy transmitted to the said School Board of the City of Rochester.

Report of

Superintendent of Water Department

For the Year Ending Dec. 31, 1911

To the Committee on Water Works. Gentlemen:

The twentieth annual report of the water department is herewith submitted. The past year, one of severe drouth throughout New England, has been one requiring an unusual amount of attention to the question of water waste, that our city might be supplied with water of good quality during the summer months. The supply at the reservoir carries such a large amount of color, owing to the presence of organic matter, that during the warm weather this source cannot be used without general dissatisfaction. On July 24, 1910, Round Pond was filled to high water mark. On June 3, 1911, when it became necessary, owing to the unsatisfactory condition of the water in the reservoir, to supply the city from Round Pond, the water level was 14 inches lower than on July 24, 1910. This fact, combined with the season of severe drouth, has, I believe, fully warranted every effort to conserve our supply for domestic and fire purposes. I wish to state, for the benefit of those who inform the public that we have an inexhaustible supply and those who are ever ready to criticise this department for any measure adopted to safeguard the same, that, in November, when the water in the reservoir was again turned into the city main, the water level in Round Pond was but one inch above the lowest intake pipe.

During the past year the shores of Round Pond have been cleared as opportunity has offered, bushes on pipe line cut, standpipe at Adams Corner cleaned, fountains in city painted, and all hydrants in city painted one coat, repaired and nozzle caps oiled. All hydrants are in good condition and are frequently inspected during the winter months. The advisability of laying a sixteen-inch main from Round Pond to connect with the sixteen inch main below the reservoir and the construction of a new gate house of suitable size at Round Pond, are matters that I wish to submit for your consideration.

One hundred and forty-six (146) meters have been installed during the past year at the request of property owners, and one by order of the Committee for non-compliance with the Regulations. The demand for meters is increasing and an equalization of the water tax will result only when the entire system is metered. The following table gives the number and size of meters in use in the City.

Report of

Chief Engineer of the Fire Department

Aug. 1, 1911 to Jan. 1, 1912

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

Since my election as chief of the Fire Department, there have been six bell calls; four in the city proper and two at East Rochester. There have also been sixteen still alarms; two alarms at Gonic and one still alarm.

The amount of property involved as follows:

Value of Buildings	$35,000 00
Insurance on same	27,100 00
Losses paid	4,900 00
Value of contents	49,200 00
Insurance on same	26,650 00
Losses paid	5,306 40

I would recommend the immediate purchase and installation of two sinks under the stalls in the rear of the stable to prevent the leakage in hose tower which is fast rendering the hose unfit for service. The condition in the hose tower is such that proper care cannot be taken of the hose.

I would also recommend the purchase of at least 500 feet of 2½-inch double jacket hose. We are also in need of three or four more fire alarm boxes as there are some localities where they are needed very much.

You are doubtless aware that the pressure from our hydrant system is very low, and not sufficient to throw a stream that will reach to do good work on some of our highest buildings, therefore, I would recommend that an automobile pumping engine be purchased. The cost to run the same would be comparatively small, and in a [great many cases it could be used to good advantage in the outlying districts; also in case of need at East Rochester and Gonic, either place could be reached in a very short time. Quick service is what we need.

Respectfully submitted,

C. E. RANDALL,

Chief of Rochester Fire Department.

Dec. 31, 1911.

Signals

Two strokes of the bell is the all-out signal.

Six strokes of the bell is for a brush fire or a fire seen at a distance, where the department is needed.

One stroke of the bell is the Engineer's test.

The above signals are given only by the Chief Engineer.

General Rules

Firemen, as well as citizens, should familiarize themselves with the following rules for giving alarms of fire:

1. Never pull a box for a fire seen at a distance.
2. Never pull a box while the alarm bells are ringing, nor until a box has completed its four rounds. Two boxes cannot operate together, and neither will work if two are pulled at the same time. Never pull two alarms or two boxes for the same fire.
3. To ring in an alarm, break the glass in the key box, and open the outside door with the key. Pull down the brass crank, seen inside, till it stops; then let go. Then let the box alone. The clock will be seen or heard to be running, and the alarm will follow in half a minute or so. Close the door, but do not try to remove the key, as it is locked in a track lock and can only be removed by a release key, which is carried by each engineer, who will, as soon as convenient, release and return it. Remember that the firemen will come directly to the box which has been pulled, and be sure that some one stays at the box to direct them to the fire.

4. Never pull an alarm for a fire seen at a distance.
Never touch a box except to give an alarm for fire.
Give an alarm for no cause other than actual fire.
Don't give an alarm for a chimney fire.

In concluding this annual report I would respectfully ask the consideration of the Honorable Mayor and Council to the following recommendations which we believe would be for the interests of our city.

1st. The telephone in connection with the Police Department is a necessity and in the absence of an officer at the station by day and by night to answer the many calls, we would suggest that a red electric light be placed in the centre of Central Square so it can be seen from North Main, South Main, Wakefield and Hanson streets with a switch in the central telephone office so when the night police are called by telephone and they see the red light they will know they are wanted and will immediately respond. We believe this can be done at a small cost and will be a great help in the protection of persons and property in our city.

2nd. We would also recommend that a telephone be placed in the Assistant Marshal's house so he can more readily respond to any call by day or night.

3d. I would also recommend that the City ordinance be amended so that the hours of the day and night force may be so arranged that some one will be on duty all the time.

4th. The question of whether an extra policeman from 12 a. m. to 12 p. m. or such hours as the Mayor and Council will designate would not be in the interest of the city, rather than the present custom of calling on special police, except on holidays or special occasions when they are needed.

5th. A delicate question, yet one that some of the councilmen wished to bring up during the past year but at the request of the Marshal held back, the salary of the police force. Your Assistant Marshal receives the same pay as the night watch, $1.92 per night. We believe in all fairness there should be a difference in the pay of the Assistant Marshal; his place carries with it more or less responsibility and the night watch should receive at least $2.00 per night. Police in other places receive from $2.00 to $2.70 per night. The salary of the Marshal whether it is the present or some other person I believe should receive due consideration with the rest of the police force.

In looking over the past year I feel warranted in expressing satisfaction at some of the results attained.

The general good order and absence of crime in our city as compared with other localities are fully appreciated by our people and I trust that nothing may arise during the coming year to unfavorably change existing conditions.

I desire to sincerely thank personally his Honor the Mayor for his support and co-operation in my efforts to enforce the laws of the city, also the City Solicitor and the Judge of the Police Court for the assistance rendered me in the discharge of duty. I also wish to commend the Assistant Marshal for his efficiency and readiness to respond when duty calls and all officers under my command for promptness in the discharge of duty.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN YOUNG,

City Marshal.

Report of Street Commissioner

To His Honor, the Mayor, and City Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:

In accordance with the required custom, I herewith submit the report of the work of the highway department for the year 1911. At the beginning of the year I found that, although I had made many needed improvements to the highways and sidewalks throughout the city, during the year just ended, there were many more improvements that could be made during the coming year. Some of this work of improvement we have succeeded in accomplishing.

Increased interest is being awakened on the subject of improved roads throughout our state, and it seems to me, that good roads well kept in repair is one of the features that vitally effect the interests of our citizens in general. There is a demand for a class of roads which possess better wearing qualities than the material gives which we are using generally. Here in the city proper, where the heavy teaming is, it is a sandy surface in the most part and soon breaks through.

The question of how to keep our highways in a passable condition, and at the same time make any permanent improvement, is one that has troubled every administration for many years. With nearly 150 miles of highway to keep in repair, it leaves little money for new and enduring roads. Much work has of necessity to remain undone or be delayed until a convenient season, but in its essential points the work has been carried out as accurately as possible.

This department was enabled to construct the very durable gravel road leading to Meaderboro Corner, at a cost of $730 for 2,200 feet in length.

Also a part of Main street at East Rochester extending from Blaisdell's block to the bridge at a cost of $450. There has been considerable work accomplished in the outside districts with the road machine this year. We gave the best attention possible to this work. In grading sidewalks throughout the city, we used about 300 loads of cinders. We built 176 yards of granolythic sidewalk at the corner of Main and Wentworth streets.

One bridge on the Barrington road, one on the Rochester Neck road, one at Gonic, Axhandle and Walker bridges, Horse Hill and Chesley bridges, and the East Rochester bridge have all been re-planked with three and four-inch plank. It required 30,000 feet of lumber to do this work.

Part of the lay-out for the Milton end of the State road was made, and we began work on the same in October. As the season for labor on the highway was about over, there was not very much accomplished.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE T. McDUFFEE,

Superintendent of Streets.

Report of Committee on Street Lights

To the Mayor and Council of the City of Rochester:

We herewith submit the following report: By the willingness on the part of the Twin State Gas & Electric Co. and working under and on the basis of the present existing contract, arrangements were made without extra expense to the City to change the regular arc lights to a larger number of Tungsten lights of different candle power, suitable to conditions and requirements in different parts of our City. After changing certain portions of our streets, the improvement was so apparent and with the addition of the extra lamps obtained by the change, enabling the placing of lights at dark places which had never been lighted, we decided to convert all the arc lamps into Tungsten lamps, which has practically been completed with the exception of some six or eight lights which have been located at dark places and which are being placed by the light company as fast as possible. The results of these changes can be better judged by you, as the lighted streets speak for themselves.

As you will doubtless remember, the Council, on recommendation of the committee, voted to establish lighting March 1st from midnight until daylight, and we believe the results have more than justified your action and we would most certainly recommend the continuation of such all night lighting; and an appropriation sufficient to cover this extra expense for the coming year, which would be $1,272 by terms of present contract. This expense has been provided for this year by taking, by vote of the council, from other departments; your committee has succeeded in getting a part of the poles painted and certain poles relocated to aid in improvements that have been made in the city. We have considerable other work, for the better appearance of our streets, in the relocation and further painting of poles, well under way with all the three companies occupying poles on our main streets, and we have reasons to believe that much improvement will result the coming year. Much credit for this work is due to Mayor Warren who has worked with this committee in obtaining the above.

Respectfully submitted,

I. P. MARCOTTE,

JAMES B. YOUNG,

WM. S. LOUGEE,

Committee on Street Lights.

Report of Committee on Street Sprinkling

To the Mayor and Council of the City of Rochester:

The expenditures of the Street Sprinkling Precinct for the year ending, Dec. 31, 1911, will be found in the reports of the expenditures of the various departments (page 83.)

It has been decided by the committee to retain the pair of horses, purchased, for next season's work as they are very suitable for this work and it would be difficult to replace them at the price they would now sell for. Arrangements have been made with the street department to use them and furnish their keeping for the work they do until such time as they will be needed for next season's work.

The two sprinklers are in good condition and have been stored in buildings at the Fair Grounds. The only charge for this storage being the use of one sprinkler by the Fair Association at Fair Grounds during Fair, provided it will not interfere with regular street sprinkling work of the Precinct, which, at that season of the year, is not heavy. The sprinklers have also been insured for $400. For next season's work, we would recommend the purchase of one additional sprinkler and another pair of horses, as the two sprinklers already purchased were unable to cover the territory during the exceedingly hot weather and we were obliged to hire horses and sprinkler to assist at that time. We have had some inquiry as to sprinkling additional territory and have advised that the proper action to obtain such was to petition the Council before the January appropriations were made for the ensuing year.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH WARREN,

FRANK B. MAGUIRE,

WM. S. LOUGEE,

Committee on Street Sprinkling.

Report of Tree Warden

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

The past year has been so dry, there has been little done in the work of setting out trees in our city although there has been much spraying and trimming of the trees of our public streets. The trees were sprayed in May and in August with good results as the trees will show.

Notices have been posted on many trees to prevent their destruction by horses. There are many vacant spots in the city where trees have been removed and new ones should be reset next spring and in some way protected from children and animals.

The gypsy moth has been discovered in this vicinity in large numbers, there being a large colony at the Percy Berry farm on Chesley Hill and at Dry Hill which are far more destructive than the brown tail moth and where ever found prompt measures should be taken to destroy them.

C. E. GOODWIN,

Tree Warden.

Report of Library Trustees

To the Honorable Council of the City of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—The Trustees of the Rochester Public Library submit their eighteenth annual report. Also the librarian and treasurer's report is respectfully submitted for the year ending December 30, 1911.

The report of the librarian will give in detail the work of the library during the year. We are pleased to report that the copy for the new catalogue is now in the hands of the printer and that the patrons of the library will soon have an opportunity to secure the same. This we believe will be a great help to them in the selection of books.

It is the purpose of the trustees to keep the expenses of the library within the appropriation and for this reason we have saved a part of last year's appropriation to pay for printing the catalogue. For this reason and the increase of the expenses of the library we have not purchased many new books or added any new feature to the library this year.

Heretofore the insurance on the library building has been paid by the city outside of the appropriation of $3,000, but now all bills are required to be paid from this amount, which is not sufficient to successfully run the library. We trust the honorable Council will take into consideration the value of the library to the city and make a liberal appropriation for its support.

The trustees wish to express their appreciation of the efficient work done by the librarian and her assistants during the year

For the Trustees,

JOHN YOUNG,
Secretary.

Report of Librarian

To the Board of Trustees of the Rochester Public Library:

Gentlemen:—I herewith present the eighteenth annual report of the librarian for the year ending December 31, 1911.

Since the establishment of the library in 1893, 15,193 books have been accessioned and about 1,800 pamphlets, documents and volumes of unbound magazines have been filed and placed on the shelves ready for use. These have either been purchased from the annual appropriations, from the interest on $1,000, given by the late Jennie I. Farrington or have been gifts. During the existence of the library 324 books have been destroyed, discarded, lost, or cannot be accounted for. Making the entire number of books in the library, at this time, 14,859.

During the year 341 books have been purchased, 45 have been added by the binding of magazines, 66 have been gifts; 5 have been lost or injured, 3 have been destroyed by fire, 2 have been burned having been exposed to contagious disease, and 30 have been discarded being past use; making the net gain for the year 412.

Among the books purchased have been several valuable sets, viz;—Ainsworth's Historical Romances; The American Nation, edited by Albert Bushnell Hart; The Children's Hour; Tennyson's works complete in ten volumes; and Vocations, edited by William DeWitt Hyde.

The number of people holding library cards is 3,446. During the year 34,177 books have been given out from the general delivery counter for home use, 10,792 from the children's room and 5,991 from the agencies, making a circulation of 50,960 for the year. In addition to this number 2,073 books have been sent out to agencies with their attendant lists and records.

No record has ever been kept of books given out for use in the rooms, in the course of a year this would amount to a large number. If a subject is being looked up by a class or a club, all books, be it two or twenty, bearing on the subject are held in reserve for room use and not given out except over night. This, while it decreases circulation, accommodates a larger number of patrons. Beside the individual calls for reference work, much time is spent looking up material for school pupils, for members of societies and clubs, Sunday school scholars and teachers. It is impossible to keep an accurate account of the readers and students that come during a day but the number counted for the year was 9,212.

About 1,945 volumes of the entire library are classed as juvenile books. Additions to this department during the year have been made wholly from the Jennie Farrington fund. The circulation for 1911, being 10,792; the number of readers, 3,976. The story hour, which has proved such a helpful and interesting feature in many libraries, has been omitted for the last few years.

Seven hundred and forty-three more books have been given out from the agencies than last year. Meaderboro received 423 books from the library, the circulation was 686. East Rochester received 550 books and gave out 1,331. Gonic had 1,100 books and the subscription to seven monthly magazines and two weeklies, the circulation for the year was 3,974. The room occupied by this agency has been freshened by paint and lighted by electricity. A desk, bookcase for periodicals, and another table for readers are needed to complete the furnishings of the room. Mrs. Brock at Meaderboro, Mrs. Emery at East Rochester, and Mr. Marsh at Gonic have each been faithful in the work of the year and reports and exchanges of books have been made promptly.

One hundred and twenty-five volumes, comprising the list of required readings sent out by the state superintendent of schools, have been held in reserve for High school pupils. Seven hundred and fifty-eight volumes have been given out to teachers for school work. It would be impossible to estimate the amount of time used or the money spent yearly for the pupils of our schools. "Turn about is fair play," they say, and it would almost seem, that, if the money which is continually raised and spent for a High school library could be turned over to the Public Library, Rochester would soon have a reference library of great value, one to which not only High school pupils would have access but every citizen as well.

The gifts received this year have been for the most part single volumes from individuals. The museum collection was increased by some interesting old receipts, petitions, etc., loaned by Mrs. John Allen. Among them was an order of 1745, demanding that "William Allin shall erect a 'garsen' on this Slmon-falls Road;" also a receipt for 39 lbs. 3 shillings the province tax of Rochester for 1768, signed by George Jaffrey, treasurer; the signatures of Josiah Main, town clerk for 1779, that of Hateville Knight, 1806 and J. P. Hale in 1817 appear; also an agreement made in 1822 whereby the town of Rochester was to pay Ezekiel Hurd the sum of ten dollars per month for teaching in district No. 6; and several others which would delight all interested in the early history of Rochester. The exhibitions of Library Art Club pictures were discontinued after July; this has been very much regretted as they were both interesting and instructive.

The year has brought another change in the library staff; Miss Bassett, who for two years had been in charge of the children's room, resigned her position to enter college. Miss Bassett was developing into a valuable library assistant and while we regret the loss and inconvenience to the work we realize the great advantage this opportunity for higher education is to her.

The work of the librarian and first assistant has been greatly increased by this change as a new girl requires months of training before she can be of much assistance. The regular work has been carried on with the same methods and policy, about 450 books have been classified and catalogued and a large number of pamphlets filed, 374 books have been rebound, 55 newly bound, 5,946 have been repaired in the library and books sent to the stations regularly with their lists and reports. In addition to the regular work the copy for a printed catalogue, giving all books added since the catalogue of 1899, has been prepared. This has, to a large extent, been done outside of library hours and has extended through nearly the entire year. If bulletins of the books added can hereafter be issued annually or semi-annually this immense piece of work need not be gone through with again.

With this need satisfied, attention can now be turned to other demands. This is almost the only library of any size that does not have Sunday opening during the winter months; that does not do a great deal in the preparation and circulation of pictures. These have been put one side heretofore not from lack of interest or demand but from lack of time. There have also been calls for music, operas, oratorios, selections from prominent composers, collections; for French books in the original; for daily papers; for the story hour for children.

“New occasions teach new duties; Time makes ancient good uncouth

They must upward still and onward, who would keep abreast of truth.”

May apply to library work as well as to individual and civic life.

In conclusion the librarian wishes to thank the trustees for their interest and encouragement and the assistants for their co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

LILLIAN E. PARSHLEY,

Librarian.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

To the School Board of Rochester:

Gentlemen:—I have the honor herewith to submit the annual report of the Superintendent of Schools for the year 1911 with the reports of the Principal of the High School and the Supervisor of Music thereto attached.

In the report of last year it was stated that the duties of Superintendent had been taken up with the intention of proceeding along well established and approved lines in the management of the school affairs of the city. The course of action then adopted has been continued to the present time and seems to be bearing fruit in an increased attendance and a deeper interest in the work in hand by all connected with school matters. In making this report I shall deal quite largely with the matters considered in the report of last year.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS

During the year, the School street building has been completed and schools have been opened therein. The building committee report the cost of construction of this new building as $17,091.40, the appropriation being $17,000. The building has been furnished in a large degree with old desks, seats, etc., which the city had on hand. This old material was taken in hand, cleaned, stained and varnished, and so again rendered sanitary, presentable, and serviceable to the city. While this furniture may not possess all the advantages of adjustment which modern fittings give, yet it is answering all purposes very well. To complete the furnishing of the building seats were taken from the rooms at the Allen building vacated in consequence of the removal of the schools to School street. Four rooms were fitted and occupied at the opening of the spring term in April, and three more at the beginning of the fall term in September.

It should be said that to the appropriation of the $17,000 above mentioned there should be added funds received from the sale of the old building, etc., to such an amount that the building may be said to have been constructed at a cost within the appropriation.

The removal of some of the schools from the Allen building has left three rooms vacant at that building. These, with the one vacant room at the new building, make four rooms in the city proper in which schools may be placed as the future may demand. There is in addition one vacant room at East Rochester, and an opportunity is offered, it would seem at Maple street for gaining an extra room at small expense.

The city then with its seven buildings is now well provided with room for its schools.

REPAIRS

The matter of repairs is a very important one in the successful management of any business and it is so in the maintaining of our school system at its highest degree of efficiency.

During the year above the usual amount of repairing has been done. At the Allen building new hard wood floors have been laid in two rooms and in the corridor on the upper floor. At East Rochester the building has received one coat of paint on the outside and the roof has been treated with a preparation of tar. At the Maple street building one room and [the entries have been painted. At the High school building the plastering in several places has been repaired and a layer of concrete has been applied to the walks.

During the summer vacation the rooms in all the buildings were thoroughly cleaned.

SCHOOLS

Throughout the year the number of schools in the city has not varied from that of the year before, it having been thirty exclusive of the High school.

The new building at School street has enabled the schools to be placed much more advantageously for the pupils as to distances, and has rendered it possible to do away almost entirely with the danger involved in crossing the railroad tracks, in getting to and from school.

The schools are now, and have been during a large part of the year, located as follows: Three, including the High school, have occupied rooms in the High school building, six in the Allen building, seven at School street, three at Maple street, six at Gonic, five at East Rochester, and one at Meaderboro. The number of schools of each grade is possibly worthy of note. For the year there have been five schools of the first grade, four of the second, three of the third, four of the fourth, two of the fifth, two of the sixth, one of the seventh, one of the eighth; one of the second and third, one of the third and fourth, two of the fifth and sixth, and one of all grades.

In comparing the above statement with that of last year an improvement is noted in that we have had but seven schools of double grade in the year past, while during the year before we had nine.

By the rearrangement of the schools as to location no assistant has been employed in the first grade Allen since last September, and it appears that none will again be needed.

At the opening of the schools in September there was an increase in some of the schools, especially in those of the fifth and seventh grades. This increase seems to have been due to the fact that many of the pupils coming to us from other places were of the right grade to enter these schools. Since September, we have had five schools, each numbering about 50 pupils.

The removal of two schools from the High school building to School street has aided much in handling the work of the High school.

TEACHERS

The number of teachers for the year has been the same as that of last year, except that there has been no assistant in the first grade Allen, as has already been stated. Several changes in the teaching force have taken place during the year. Early in the winter term Miss Johnson of the sixth grade, was obliged to resign on account of illness. Miss Bartlett of the fourth grade Allen, resigned near the end of the winter term to take a position elsewhere at a higher salary. Miss Evans of the Meaderboro school changed to Groveland, Mass. Miss Brooks gave up the principalship at East Rochester after several years of successful service, and Miss Lawson, Miss Douglass and Miss Marguerite Sanborn resigned as teachers in the High school, at the end of the spring term. We have here a loss of seven teachers.

This number, while larger than it should be, is, however, not beyond what it has been in other years. In the year, 1906, there were nine changes in the corps of teachers serving the city. In 1907 there were fifteen, in 1909 there were nine and in 1910 there were over a dozen.

The places of these teachers, who have left us, have been filled with others, who while new in several cases to the business of teaching, are doing all they can to carry forward the work. In consequence the city still has a body of deeply interested, hard working instructors.

COURSES

We are still using the State outline as the basis of our work in the graded schools. This seems to be a wise course so long as we are leading pupils up to an approved High school. The outline or "Programme of Studies," as is its title, is the work of many of our New Hampshire teachers, and others interested in matters of education, and certainly ought to possess many elements of great value to a school system anywhere.

The courses of study in the High school were revised to some extent at the close of the schools in June last, but they are still practically the same as last year. These courses are a Latin course, an English course and a Commercial course.

The Commercial course still continues to be a popular one and more and more pupils are looking toward it as they are coming along through the grades.

We cannot yet do the "actual business" so fully as is desired, but the new commercial desks and the windows in the partition between the commercial room and the typewriting room, help this matter considerably. It may be that during the coming year we shall be able to so add to our equipment that we can do everything connected with the commercial course very thoroughly. The three new typewriters in exchange for the three old ones, at little cost, are proving very useful, and extend our facilities for teaching type-writing very much.

METHODS

The methods of instruction are still those which have received the approval of our Normal Schools and educators in general.

In connection with a discussion of methods and courses it may be said that the one thing more than another that will help along the whole matter of educating the child, is a deeper study of the child himself, by the one who is to teach him. The tendency seems to be especially in our schools of a large number of pupils to bring every pupil to the same level by the same processes. As a result many a child is getting far less in his school life than he should.

The father of one of the youngest boys in college to-day, himself an educated man, is reported as saying that his son is no brighter than the ordinary child; the fact that he is in college at an early age, is due to the training of the child by those who have understood his needs, and to the casting aside of many of the non-essentials of the schools. This view of the matter seems certainly to support what has been said above.

No man would think of going among his fruit trees and pruning every tree in the same way, nor would he think of making every other tree like some one tree. If he has it in mind to do the best he can for his orchard, he makes a study of the needs of each tree and works to bring that tree to its best by using special treatment for it.

It would of course be useless to attempt to teach each pupil in our public schools individually and yet the nearer we can come to it the greater will be the success in giving to every pupil the help and training that he needs. Our aim in training children should be to take the child, who comes to us, and to return him to his parents at the end of his school career, in the best developed condition, physically, mentally and morally, that it is possible to bring about.

The educating of a child is really a matter of business on the part of the teacher and the public expects us to turn out a good product. If this is not done then new and better methods must be employed.

MUSIC.

The interest in music is still well sustained. The introduction of sight work seems to be a distinct advance. Many and many a pupil realizes that the knowledge of music, which he gets in the schools, will be about all that he will ever obtain. And so this feeling adds to the desire to take this course. The further discussion of this subject is left to the report of Mr. French.

TEXT BOOKS.

New text books are being added as fast as the financial situation will warrant. It is hoped that in the course of another year the books in the schools may be fully renewed.

I am decidedly of the opinion that each pupil should have his own books, kept in his own desk. I believe in this arrangement, both, because it is better as a prevention of the spread of children's diseases and because it is an arrangement by which the pupil may better be held responsible for the care of the books furnished him by the city.

SESSIONS.

The sessions of the schools, as we now have them, seem to give general satisfaction. The one session at the High school seems to give opportunity for carrying forward the work with precision and helpfulness to the pupil. The satisfaction given by the present arrangement is likely to result in the permanency of the one session plan.

FINANCE.

In taking up the matter of finance it is found that there has been some increase in the cost of the schools this year over that of a year ago. If we compare the figures for this year with those of last year we find that several things have in some degree contributed to this increase.

During the year the salaries of some of the teachers were increased, yet on account of changes, others were decreased so that on the whole we have paid our teachers no more this year than last. The increased cost of our schools then seems to be due to the fitting up of the new building, the increased cost of the janitor service, the larger transportation charges and the many repairs made. With the new building coming into use, none of these extra expenses could well be avoided. They were matters that must be met if we were to get the benefits desired.

It does not appear that there can be much more rapid increase when the conditions incident to the occupation of the new building have passed away.

Many of our teachers are now reaching the salary limit and so no great increase may be looked for from this quarter, unless a change is made as to salaries. Our buildings are ample in number and size and are in good condition, so that not much increase may be looked for on account of the proper housing of the schools. It is of course expected that there will be a gradual increase as the city grows, as indeed there should be, if we are to keep up with other places in matters of education.

While, however, there has been an increase in school cost, yet we are still spending only about a third of the revenues of the city for school purposes, a proportionate sum which is much less than is devoted to school purposes in many places.

EMPLOYMENT CERTIFICATES

During the year a new law concerning the employment of children has gone into effect. By its provisions a pupil must have attended school three hundred half days during his fourteenth year, or during the year immediately before asking for a certificate. This law has possibly in some cases worked some hardship to pupils and parents. It is hoped that, as all come to understand the provisions of the law better, it can be administered without injustice to any one.

It is of importance to parents and pupils alike that children attend school up to the age of fourteen years, as much as possible, and especially should there be good attendance on the part of pupils during the fourteenth year, as it is largely upon the attendance of this year that the ability to get an employment certificate depends.

MANUAL TRAINING

This is a time when about every School Board is thinking more or less of manual training in the schools and of Industrial Schools. As yet nothing is attempted along these lines in Rochester, and really nothing can be undertaken without considerable outlay. Manual training truly has its place in a school curriculum and the industrial school has a place to fill in our New England cities and towns; but it does not, as some people believe, have a place in school to the exclusion of mind developing studies. As we are now situated we could not well do much that would be of value along the line of manual training.

DISEASES

The schools during the year have been very free from wide-spread attacks of epidemic diseases. We have no regular medical inspection and yet we have escaped any serious trouble. Our Health Officer, Mr. Goodwin, is to be commended for the good conditions prevailing as to children's diseases. This officer working with the other members of the Board of Health has often been up early and home late, many a time even going out late at night for the purpose of heading off some outbreak of the measles, scarlet fever or some other disease that might affect not only the schools but the community at large. The visits of this officer may not always have been pleasing for we all like much to escape the attentions of those in authority, yet when all is over, we are all, I am sure, very glad that something has been done which has effectually warded off some dangerous disease. Let us all then look upon whatever is done not as a matter of officiousness, but rather as something necessary to our own good.

JANITORS

The city still has its old corps of janitors and they have given the same degree of attention to their duties as in the years gone by. Much of the success of our schools is due to the men, who keep us clean and warm in the school buildings. A report without a word for those to whom so many things both small and great are entrusted, would surely be lacking in an important particular.

RETARDATION.

During the past two or three years there has been considerable discussion throughout the country concerning the retardation or non-promotion of pupils. It is the policy of the present management to promote every pupil if there is any probability that he may do the work of the grade next ahead of him.

WORDS IN CLOSING.

The reports of the Principal of the High school and of the Supervisor of Music, together with the financial statement and statistics will be found on the pages following. With the reports I heartily agree.

In closing I desire to thank the members of the Board, the teachers, and the public for their aid and kindly co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

EVERETT A. PUGSLEY,

Superintendent of Schools.

Report of the Principal of the High School

---

Mr. Everett A. Pugsley, Superintendent of Schools:

Dear Sir:—I herewith submit my second annual report as Principal of the Rochester High School.

While attention is here called to some unsatisfactory conditions and to certain needs of the school as I see them, I am confident that the past year has been one of progress.

The statistics for the year 1910-11 follow:

Registration Fall Term 1911

	No. Pupils

Class 1913	39

Class 1914	46
Class 1915	104
	<hr/>
Total	219
Pupils in Latin Course	92
Pupils in English Course	46
Pupils in Business Course	81
Total number of girls	122
Total number of boys	97

The record for the year ending in June 1901 has been included in the above table in order to bring to public attention in a definite way the rapid growth of the High school during the decade just completed—the first in the new high school building. It is interesting to notice that the average attendance for the fall term of the year 1911 is practically double that for the year ending in June 1901, the last year in the old building. The number of graduates, too, in June 1911 is more than double the number in the year 1901. Considering the fact that during this period of time there has been only a small increase in the population of the city these figures show a very decided change in the attitude of the people toward the High school. This is due to various causes and is a very general condition in the country at large. Among these reasons perhaps the most potent is the opportunity now given to pupils to study so-called “business courses” in which both parents and children recognize something that seems to offer a tangible return for time, energy and money expended. There are now eighty-one students registered in the business course, nearly half of whom are members of the entering class. Of the class of ninety-eight which graduated in June from the grammar schools of the city eighty-six entered the High school in September. This is a percentage that rarely, if ever, has been equaled in the city. With this entering class the school has the largest membership in its history. It would seem from the above statistics that the percentage of increase in the number graduating from the High school is slightly more than the percentage of increase in the number entering; yet that difference is slight enough to emphasize the deplorable fact that probably more than half of those who enter the high school fail to graduate, and that a very large proportion of those leaving do so during the first two years. While this is a condition that can from the nature of the case never be entirely changed it is the most difficult and at the same time one of the most important problems of high school administration, today, to devise means to keep pupils four years in the high school. Technical high schools and commercial high schools are being built in most of our large cities and indications seem to point to the solution of the problem along these lines.

What can Rochester do to solve her part of the problem? In the first place, continue to develop the Business Course until it shall reach such a degree of success that its graduates will be in demand by the business men of the city. One weakness of the course has been (and it is so in all high schools), that students are unable to get the necessary amount of actual business experience to make them self-confident in their ability to adapt themselves to the difficult situations of business life. This weakness will always exist in a measure, but the installment of actual business offices in the school is the first step in the right direction and a co-operative arrangement with a few business men of the city, who are enough interested in the school and its work to give selected pupils the advantage of actual experience seems to me to be another possible step.

I fear that it is true that in the past only a very few of the graduates of our business department have made use of the shorthand, typewriting, and book-keeping because no suitable positions have been available for them. As a matter of fact, graduates of the high school Business Course should be much better equipped for their work than graduates of various business schools whose diplomas may be obtained in six or eight months. A co-operative arrangement would tend to increase the number of positions open to high school graduates and this would tend in turn to keep pupils in school longer.

In the second place some of the manual arts, domestic science, or a course in agriculture should be given a place in our program. These are subjects of great educational value, are of use to the ordinary boy or girl who does not go to college, will soon be of use even to offer for college admission according to present indications, and they appeal to the class of boys and girls who are leaving our schools as other subjects do not and never will. Domestic science would be particularly desirable here as only a small number of the girl graduates go to college. These things might do something to keep pupils in the high school through the whole course. But even if these additions cannot be made much might be done to reduce the number of failures and keep up the interest, which brings me to the consideration of the course of study now in force in the High school.

This course requires of all pupils who expect to graduate from the school in four years a total of twenty periods of recitation per week, which means four of the six forty-five minute recitation periods into which each day is divided. This requirement is due to the usual college entrance requirement of sixteen points, or four properly selected studies pursued with four or five recitations weekly through each of the four years. College requirements in individual subjects have been for some years, and still are, such, not only in character but also in extent, that a pupil preparing for college must spend much more time in preparation outside of school than in actual recitation in school. It is undoubtedly true that in the thorough preparation of daily work in four studies by the pupil of ordinary ability from four to six hours of home study are often necessary. It is evident, then, that for the pupils of ordinary ability the course is a difficult one. The majority of the school, who take a college preparatory course, are of ordinary ability, and thus are affected by this condition.

Furthermore, a failure in a subject must be made up either by repetition or by the substitution of another subject taken as an extra. This creates an almost impossible situation; for only rarely is a pupil able, mentally or physically, to stand the strain of preparing and reciting five lessons daily. The failure in one subject during one year is apparently likely to cause failure to graduate from the school in four years; it at least endangers the pupil's health, (especially in case of a girl), and may make necessary a removal from school; and in a majority of cases it discourages the pupil and causes him to withdraw from school. Those who succeed in "weathering the storm" by doing their work in such a way that they secure the necessary percentage often have become superficial in their habits of study, careless in their habits of thought and perhaps even accustomed to dishonest methods. That is to say that the product of the present system may not have the elements of a good education though he has done, in one way or another, the necessary quantity of work for a diploma.

Right here is one of our greatest difficulties. If the high school does not teach pupils how to study and how to think it can hardly succeed in its task of developing qualities that will enable its graduates to solve the difficult problems of real life. In teaching children how to study, the school is at once placed at a disadvantage as only an hour and a half daily is allowed for study in school, during which time there is, with few exceptions, a recitation in progress in the same room, always more or less disconcerting to the pupil and making practically impossible any helpful supervision on the part of the teacher conducting the recitation. We are able to be of some assistance in this respect by personal advice and by devoting part of a recitation period to actually studying some subject with the members of the class. But from the nature of things most of the study must be done at home; and it is at this point that parents are able to be of untold assistance in directing and carefully supervising home study. If pupils could learn really to study instead of mulling over their lessons the amount of study necessary with the present course might not be too great.

However, in order to allow the pupil of ordinary ability to pursue his work beyond the second year, and to encourage him to do so, I believe that it is advisable to consider reducing our requirement for graduation so that in case of a failure in one or even in two subjects for one year a pupil may still graduate from the school in the allotted four years. It is possible, too, that some subjects might be reduced from five periods to four periods per week if the consent of the State Department could be obtained. While the course of study in force this year has been practically that of last year, two subjects not given last year because not enough pupils elected them, have been added to the daily program. Every teacher is busy every period in the day. Several classes include from thirty-five to forty pupils, too large a number to allow successful results. The teacher of first and second year English is obliged to correct themes for 150 pupils. We are unusually fortunate in having a teaching force which devotes its whole life to the work, but we should guard against over-work on their part if they are to be at their highest point of efficiency. If possible, then, provision should be made for an additional teacher.

At this point I venture to observe that a state system ought to be so devised that it would not be a disgrace in its eyes for a school and the city in which the school is situated, to fail to read exactly so many lines of Ovid in its Latin classes, or to fail to require exactly thirty-eight written themes a year from its English classes. The system should be more flexible, allowing individual schools to adapt themselves to the needs of their environment and permitting some freedom of development. The emphasis of requirement should be placed on quality, regardless, to some extent, of quantity; and state supervision should be provided in sufficient amount to make possible more careful inspection of individual schools by personal visitations. It is interesting to note that the State is awake to the need of changes, a fact indicated by the appointing of a committee, by the Educational Council of the State for the purpose of revising the secondary program of studies to be recommended to high schools by the Department of Public Instruction of New Hampshire. During a large part of the year a lunch has been served in the school basements. It has been served under disadvantages, but has, in spite of this, proved successful. A large number of pupils have availed themselves of the opportunity afforded and an increasing number are bringing lunches from home. Our inability to keep hot soups and cocoa makes impracticable the serving of these—a decided loss. There have been served sandwiches, cookies, cream cakes, jelly rolls, drop cakes, fresh fruits, etc. These have been well prepared and neatly served and the conduct of the pupils in the lunch rooms has been satisfactory. The lunch has met a distinct need of the school, but if means could be provided for heating soups, etc., it would be a greater success.

The school has been engaged in the usual general activities with varying success and benefit. Athletic, social, literary and musical interests have received attention. These interests play an important part in the life of a city high school and often furnish impetus for greater exertion in school work proper. The few socials have been well attended and enjoyed by those present, while the chaperone system accomplishes two important results, namely, proper supervision and closer association of parents and teachers.

Two parents' meetings have been held during the year which were well attended and of benefit to both parents and teachers. We are always glad to receive visits from parents and others who are interested in the school and urge that more come. Hearsay and the opinions of those in the school regarding conditions there existing are not the bases on which parents and other citizens should form judgment on those conditions; personal knowledge of the actual inside workings of the school is necessary if intelligent criticism, favorable or unfavorable, is to be made.

An effort has been made, by frequent inspection and repair, to bring about better care of books and of other supplies furnished by the city. Although some improvement is noticed much is still to be desired in this respect. It is advisable to make a beginning, if possible, in the direction of using paper covers for our books; these covers would keep the books in better condition, and when replaced, at the beginning of each year or oftener, would prove a valuable sanitary measure.

The two Webster's International Dictionaries purchased during the year are in constant use by both pupils and teachers; I hope that either one or two may be added each year until each room is supplied. There are also needed small dictionaries and books of synonyms for individual use. During the past year no books for supplementary reading have been added to our school library. I called your attention in my first report to this need which seems to me still to be one of the most urgent of the school. The gift of the Official War Records of the Civil War, and the accompanying maps and diagrams by Sampson Post, No. 22, G. A. R., makes a valuable material for the study of this period. We have made some effort as a school to raise money to devote to this purpose, but only a small amount has been realized.

Athough perhaps not properly included here, I desire to express my conviction that one of the great needs of our boys is a suitable place where they may meet outside of school hours under wise supervision for indoor games, reading and conversation. The time may not yet have come when a gymnasium for the school children can be built by this city, as has been done by many other cities, but a comparatively small expenditure in this direction would bring about a much higher standard of ideals, as it would not then be necessary for the boys to spend their spare time on street corners, in private club rooms, or in pool rooms. No investment could be made which would bring greater returns to the city.

In conclusion permit me to say that in dealing with the discipline of the school it has been my greatest endeavor to develop in the pupils a desire to be clean, serious-minded and honorable in all their activities, realizing that what they are today they are likely to be tomorrow and that they will be tomorrow the City of Rochester.

In all my dealings with the parents and the public I have found them uniformly kind, courteous and helpful in every way; this has been a very pleasant feature of the year's work and for it I desire to express my hearty appreciation.

To the unselfish co-operation, conscientious work, untiring energy and efficient teaching of the assistant teachers is due whatever of success has been attained in the High school during the past year.

Thanking the School Board, and you, Sir, for the support and assistance readily given throughout the year, this report is respectfully submitted.

WILLARD H. BACON.

Report of the Supervisor of Music

To the Superintendent of Schools:

Sir:—I have the honor to submit herewith my annual report of the Music department.

In the average ability to read music, and in the general interest in the subject there has been made a commendable advance. In the individual sight singing exercises there is a more responsive spirit on the part of scholars of average ability, due to greater confidence inspired by the grade teachers in their ever increasing tactfulness in approaching the subject with children of varying temperaments. An attempt was made to record the results of these exercises as often as once in two weeks, but owing to the inexperience of the teachers in this part of our routine work and their imperfect understanding of the objects and requirements, the records were too imperfect to have any intrinsic value; a beginning was made, however, and we hope to be able from these records to draw some helpful inferences for future improvements along specific lines of progress.

With all the improvements noted, it is still inevitable that some things should remain to be desired; and the Supervisor is convinced that more even results would be secured in the various rooms of the same grade if he were to do more supervising, more observation work in lieu of so much teaching. It should also be obvious that a teacher should be made acquainted with the course of study throughout, both as to the subject matter and the methods used in presenting the problems, as there are always some pupils who develop more slowly than the average, and the teachers, to whom they go, should be familiar with the ground over which the class has gone in order to re-enforce the weak places to the best advantage.

In the High school the interest is good. However, at the present time we find it impracticable to attempt four-part compositions making large demands on the bass voices owing to the scarcity of well matured voices in that part. We trust that this is only a temporary condition, however, and that the present depression in this respect will be followed by a strong masculine wave.

In conclusion, I desire to thank the Superintendent, the grade teachers, who were never more loyal, and the children for the co-operation which alone has made possible such success as has attended our combined efforts.

Respectfully submitted,

A. E. FRENCH.

Singing of Class Ode

Class Ode

Words by Mildred M. Flanders

Music by Lula A. Weare

Come classmates raise your voices
Our parting song to sing,
Lift up, lift up your chorus
And make the arches ring.
Our school days now are over,
We soon must part, alas!
Yet let the thought not sadden,
But closer bind our class.
Though school associations
Are past and we divide,
Old memories and friendships
Are things that shall abide.
Our class is still a unit,
Still faithful to its claim;
We but go forth to bring it
Increasing praise and fame.
Our motto is our watchword,
"No conquest without toil;"
With that to guide our efforts
Seek we the victor's spoil.
Lift high, high lift your chorus,
And swell its notes to heaven
Ave! Ave! to our class!
The Class of Nineteen 'Leven.
